

"The payload weighing feature for ADTs is something that we are very interested in. We don't want to be one ton too high or low. We can use payload information that is very close to real time to immediately change operator behavior in the field about how each truck is being loaded and drive efficiencies on a daily basis."

Chris Harrell

Granite Contracting, Charlotte, North Carolina

